

8th grade students at Black Mountain designed and constructed roller coasters to test the relationship between kinetic & potential energy to speed & position.

