Mission of Hope Visits EES

December has been an exciting month for Evarts Elementary School. The students enjoyed many Christmas programs, including the annual visit from the Mission of Hope. Members of the Sevier Heights Baptist Church from Knoxville, Tennessee arrived on December 4th with toys for all students at EES. Their visit started off with a sing-a-long program in the morning which was followed by the gym being turned into a toy store for the day. Each child received three toys, personalized bible, and hygiene products. After receiving their gifts, students and their teacher were presented a special treat in their classroom along with another sing-a-long song. The Sevier Heights Baptist Church has been sponsoring the school since 2001. The church and the Mission of Hope also sponsor a Back-To-School program at the beginning of the year at the school to distribute school supplies to the children.

Games Program Presented at EES

The Bureau of Lectures and the Evarts Elementary Family Resource Youth Services Center sponsored an educational program on December 08 at the school. The program was used to promote physical education and good nutrition. Greg Kaler presented "Games from Around the World" to the all students at the school. Mr. Kaler presented different games as they are played in different countries. He combined the lesson on games with a mess that included good health habits and nutrition.
