Evarts Elementary School student, Aden Barrett, was presented a plaque and fire helmet personalized with his name and unit number honoring him as a lifelong member of the Yocum Creek Fire Department. Aden donated a large amount of toys to the fire department to be given to local children for Christmas. Royce Wynn, Fire Chief said, "We run out of boy gifts every Christmas but Aden's donation kept that from happening this year." December was an exciting month for Evarts Elementary School. The students enjoyed many Christmas programs, including the annual visit from the Mission of Hope. Members of the Sevier Heights Baptist Church from Knoxville, Tennessee arrived on December 14th with toys for all students at EES. Their visit started off with a sing-a-long program in the morning which was followed by the gym being turned into a toy store for the day. After receiving their gifts, students and their teacher were presented a special treat in their classroom along with another sing-a-long song. The Sevier Heights Baptist Church has been sponsoring the school since 2001. The church and the Mission of Hope also sponsor a Back-To-School program at the beginning of the year at the school to distribute school supplies to the children.
